Dear Dr. Fresenburg,

As the winter approaches, we at Quail Hollow Club are already looking towards next April. We have the privilege to host the Quail Hollow Championship from April 26th to May 2nd. This will be eighth consecutive year of this PGA Tournament event. There is much to prepare for and we are looking for driven, dependable, hardworking interns up for this challenge.

The internship we offer is extensive and well rounded. On our 18 hole private facility, interns will receive hands on experience on all aspects of golf course maintenance and championship preparation. Everything from equipment operation to transition management will be covered. Also, students will be given leadership opportunities during the tournament and see the full extent of maintaining a course at tournament level.

On top of the experience gained from tournament preparation and daily course maintenance, we offer staff training seminars twice a month taught by the Golf Course Superintendent, Assistant Superintendents, and Technicians. These educational meetings cover topics including: Irrigation, Sub Air Systems, Budget, and Chemicals/Fertilizers Application.

All levels of knowledge and experience are encouraged to apply; however, our organization demands the highest level of dedication, self motivation and commitment. Competitive wages ranging from $9.00 – 11.00/hour will be offered commensurate to experience. Employee golf privileges, uniforms, and lunch are provided, housing is available.

Individuals serious about expanding their knowledge should contact Golf Course Superintendent: Jeff Kent at (704) 542-1553 or KentJQuailHollow@carolina.rr.com. Please send your resumes to Quail Hollow Club, PO Box 240224, Charlotte, NC 28224.

We hope to have the students from your school represented here at Quail Hollow next year!

Sincerely,
